

Domain	Client	Reject Reason	Policy Reference
Magicschool.edu.au	Fictional School of Magic	It's not a registered school with the relevant government body and is based on fiction	Policy 1.3.1 "The .edu.au second level domain (2LD) is for recognised education and training entities registered at federal or state/territory level" Policy 2 lists the entities which will be considered as registrants.
usahighschool.edu.au	USA High School	School in USA, .edu.au is specifically for Australian organisations only	Policy 1.3.1 ".edu.au domain licences may only be issued to recognised Australian education and training entities"
Russian.edu.au	Russian Association Inc	Domain name is too generic as it is a language and therefore can't be accepted on its own	Policy 1.5.3 "Generic education and training words (e.g. school; elearning; business; science) should not by themselves feature as 3LD or 4LD names"
Researchpublishing.edu.au	Education Research Council	Publishing site is a commercial venture and not eligible for an .edu.au domain name	Policy 1.3.1 "The .edu.au second level domain (2LD) is for recognised education and training entities registered at federal or state/territory level .edu.au domain licences may only be issued to recognised Australian education and training entities"
Socialvalues.edu.au	Help Humanity	Represents a political statement or value judgement	Policy 1.5.3 Classes of names which may not be registered: "Names expressing a value judgement or political statement"
Doctorsjournal.edu.au	Wise Doctors	Journals are not eligible as they are not delivering education	Policy 1.3.1 "The .edu.au second level domain (2LD) is for recognised education and training entities registered at federal or state/territory level .edu.au domain licences may only be issued to recognised Australian education and training entities"
Burbshigh.edu.au	The Burbs High School	Domain is for a High School and therefore must be registered with the state identifier e.g. 'burbshigh.sa.edu.au'	Policy 1.3.1 "For entities which are primarily state-based, names are created at fourth level in the form www.anyschool.statename.edu.au . The great majority of such entities are schools, pre-schools, child care centres,

Domain	Client	Reject Reason	Policy Reference
			some TAFEs, and other entities which are primarily local in scope, including RTOs and non-profit educational entities”
Learntoscuba.edu.au	Jack Thomson	Domains must be registered to an organisation, not an individual	Policy 2 Only entities are considered as registrants, not individuals i.e. school, pre-school, RTO, higher education institution etc.
schoolofrock.edu.au	NSW School of Rock Online	Registered training organisations delivering education in one state must have a state identifier e.g. schoolofrock.nsw.edu.au, online delivery does not in itself qualify an organisation for a 3rd level domain, they must be registered in more than one state or territory	Policy 1.3.1 “Universities and other bodies with national interests and responsibilities will be registered at the third level in the form of www.anyname.edu.au . They include entities with a national scope” NB. National scope is determined via the NTIS website.
Eager.edu.au	Eager Learning (planning to open in a few months)	Organisations must be Registered Training Organisations before applying for an .edu.au domain name	Policy 1.3.1 “.edu.au domain licences may only be issued to recognised Australian education and training entities” Policy 2 lists the recognised entities which will be considered as registrants.
Catwalkdesign.edu.au	Fashion Design School	If the organisation is undergoing a name change, it will need to be changed before applying for an .edu.au domain name	Policy 1.5.1.2.a “Where a domain name refers to the name of the applying organisation, it must either: exactly match the applying organisation’s name, or be substantially and closely connected to the name of the registrant’s entity, or be an acronym or abbreviation of the registrant’s entity name”
Goodsports.edu.au	Sports for Schools	Company offers sporting activities to schools on a commercial basis, although this is education they are not an educational organisation	Policy 1.3.1 “The .edu.au second level domain (2LD) is for recognised education and training entities registered at federal or state/territory level .edu.au domain licences may only be issued to recognised Australian education and training entities”